Salvation Army Attendance is Good, Fund Drive Lags

TWO PICTURES: Today we present two pictures of the same thing, the Harrisburg post of the Salvation Army. One is pleasant, the other isn't.

I attended a meeting of the Army's advisory board yesterday noon and heard Lt. John Kimmons, officer in charge, give his report.

PICTURE NO. 1: "I've really been overjoyed over the way attendance has picked up," Lt. Kimmons said. "At Sunday school there are no vacant seats with attendance gaining about 100 per cent during the past two months. And for our Sunday night services, most of the seats are filled."

"It does me good to see things picking up like that," he continued. "The meeting collections are much better and we have more who tithe. I give most of the credit for better attendance to the Sunday school visitation program we have had in effect the past two months," he continued. Every Friday night for two and a half hours all nine Sunday school teachers pound on doors and ask persons who do not go to services elsewhere to come to our Sunday school. This campaign is being a great success."

The Salvation Army post, he said, had been asked to provide the speaker for the community Easter Sunrise Service to be held this year at the Harrisburg Drive-In theatre and that one of their most capable men in the midwest had been secured.

He is Milton S. Agnew, territorial Young People's secretary for eleven states.

The report he handed out, covering activities in January and February, showed the following:

Adult meetings: Number of meetings 42; attendance at meetings 729; adult conversions 4. Young people's meetings: Number of meetings 36; attendance at meetings 651; number of conversions 11; number of days playground used 47; number using playground 1,175.

Relief: Transient relief 38; number of grocery orders 39; number of fuel orders 21; number given cash relief 2.

PICTURE NO. 2: Lt. Kimmons said the drive that was held last fall was woefully short of expectations.

"Our drive chairman, Charles D. Taylor, did a good job and I don't know what the answer is," Lt. Kimmons stated, "but in Harrisburg we raised only $1,790. That is not nearly enough to operate."

He said that in Eldorado, where they had their first drive and where the number working was small, $698.75 was collected. Carrier Mills, he said, is having its first drive but is not completed, and it is hoped that $300 or $400 will come from there.

"We're still sadly behind in Harrisburg and I'm at a loss to know which way to turn," Lt. Kimmons continued. "We definitely cannot operate on this amount during the coming year."

But, it was learned, numerous persons were not contacted during the past drive. Many business places were not visited by the workers. Some of the board members picked up some of the cards of persons and businesses not contacted and resolved to go out and try to build up the total to a respectable figure.

Lt. Kimmons said that of the money collected in the drive that $1,360 has been paid out already.

"We have $1,529.94 left but we still have $1,000 in bills that must be paid," he said.

Two Injured In Highway Accidents

Robert Hankins of Galatia Route 2 was treated at Lightner hospital for minor cuts and bruises and his new 1954 convertible was damaged extensively yesterday afternoon in a collision of his auto and a truck driven by Logan Stapleton, Harrisburg.

State Policeman Roy A. Lane, who with Officer Adolph Sweat investigated, said that Hankins was driving east and his car hit the side of the truck as it was turning on Route 13 at Buena Vista.

In another incident, Erle Walker, driving a truck belonging to Beecher Williams on a gravel road in the county, suffered injuries to his face and head yesterday morning, when the truck left the road and hit a culvert.

Demos Demand Showdown on Chavez Issue

Assured Rules Committee Will Report to Senate

By United Press
Senate Democrats told the Republicans today to do something next week on the disputed election of Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-N.M.).

If the Republicans don't move to wind up the long-hanging dispute, the Democrats announced that they will.

The Democratic showdown demand was announced by Earle C. Clements (D-Ky.), party whip, after a caucus lasting an hour and a half.

Clements and Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) said they were assured by Republican Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) that the Rules committee will send a report to the Senate floor before the end of next week.

A Rules subcommittee has been investigating Chavez' 1952 victory over Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley for the past 14 months. Chavez won by about 5,000 votes, but his Republican opponent filed a contest.

If the full committee does not act next week, the Democrats said they will offer a resolution to discharge the Rules committee from further consideration of the issue. They have 48 votes to the GOP's 47 and the possibility of support from the Senate's lone independent, Wayne Morse of Oregon.

Other congressional news:
Farm: The National Council of Farmer Cooperatives urged private enterprise to recapture the U. S. position in world markets. In a statement to the Senate Agriculture committee the council also urged Congress to consider marketing agreements to keep commodity supplies in line with demand while assuring producers of an adequate income. The agreements would be similar to those governing milk sales in city areas.

Housing: The AFL and CIO told the House Banking committee Monday that the administration housing program is "inadequate." Today the committee heard two other views.

The American Bankers Assn. said the program could result in too much housing. The U. S. Chamber of Commerce applauded it, however, as "good legislation."

Medals: The House Armed Services committee approved a bill to let 1,100 American veterans of the Korean war accept decorations awarded them from other United Nations.

Skippers: The Department of Health, Education and Welfare generally endorsed legislation designed to keep fathers from skipping across state lines to avoid supporting their families. The department said a lot of juvenile delinquency stems from parental non-support.

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The Senate completed action Monday on legislation to establish a 125-million-dollar Air Force academy at a yet to be chosen site.

The House has already passed a similar bill and differences between the two measures must be ironed out before the final bill is submitted for President Eisenhower's signature.

The legislation would permit the Air Force to build a school similar to the Army's West Point and the Navy's Annapolis. The Air Force would use an existing air base until a permanent site is chosen and permanent buildings erected.

Senate action came on a voice vote. Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) opposed the measure because he said it "flies in the teeth of armed forces unification." He said a single national defense academy should be established.

One of the most ticklish problems in creating the proposed academy is selection of its permanent site. Dozens of cities and states have bid for the honor.

Chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, denied reports that the site already has been selected.

Under the House bill, Air Secretary Harold E. Talbott would have a free hand in picking the site for the academy. If he wanted to, he could appoint a selection committee.

Under the Senate bill, a selection committee would have to be appointed and if its choice for a site were unanimous, Talbott would have to accept it. If not unanimous, Talbott could pick from the three top choices of the committee.

Kills Self While Wife Reads Suicide Note Delivered by Mail

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Warren Young, a 31-year-old unemployed bus driver, planned a surprise for his wife, Patricia. He wrote her a letter last Saturday, dropped it in a mailbox, then went home and told her to watch for it.

Monday it came. Young watched the mailman deliver it and walk away. Then, as his wife opened the envelope, Young went into a bedroom. Just as Patricia realized the letter contained a suicide note, she heard a shot. Young had fired a fatal bullet into his brain.

U. S. Opposes Weakening of Hemisphere Plan

CARACAS, Venezuela (U.P.)—The United States strongly opposed today any diplomatic moves to weaken the strength of its campaign against Communism in the Western Hemisphere.

"We can accept changes in words but we cannot and will not compromise on the basic idea of thwarting Red intervention and clandestine activities in the Western Hemisphere," a U. S. delegate to the Inter-American Conference said.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and his aides already were facing moves to amend their anti-Communist resolution. Dulles also was confronted with Latin American interest in economic matters.

The U. S. resolution would set up machinery for emergency meetings if Communism gains control of hemisphere nations. It also would expose Red propaganda and agents working for the Kremlin.

Mexico proposed amendments to the U. S. resolution and more are expected during debates this week. U. S. officials held back comment while awaiting the reaction of other nations.

Three Nations Support U. S.
Dulles and his group were heartened by the absence of immediate support for Guatemalan Foreign Minister Guillermo Toriello's demand for a definition of Communism before conference action is taken.

In a speech Monday Dulles said he was "disturbed" to find that "one so innocent that he has to ask that question" was conducting the foreign affairs of a Western Hemisphere republic.

Dulles said Communism was run from Moscow by forces which sought to win parts of the Western Hemisphere for Russia through agents, "dupes and plotters."

In reply, Toriello asked "whether raising the price of coffee in the United States could be called Communism."

Brazil, Paraguay and the Dominican Republic lined up solidly behind the United States in the opening debate and Dulles is confident an overwhelming majority will favor his project.

Austin Wyman, GOP Candidate for Senate, To Visit Here Wednesday

Austin L. Wyman, a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator, will speak over WSIL-TV and meet friends in Harrisburg Wednesday evening.

His television appearance will be from 8:30 to 8:45 p. m. From 7 to 8 p. m. he will meet the public at the Homing hotel.

Mr. Wyman will be accompanied here by Deneen Watson, formerly of Harrisburg and Hardin county, now of Chicago, who entered the race for senator but withdrew in favor of Wyman. They will arrive by helicopter at 5:30 p. m.

Hayes Centers Attack on Douglas In Address to GOP Party Workers

Candidate for Senate Speaks
At Country Club

Edward A. Hayes, candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator, entertained GOP party workers from nine counties with a dinner at the Kurto country club last night and entered an attack on Democratic Senator Paul Douglas, who will be the opponent of the GOP choice in November.

"Douglas," he charged "has been able to create the impression that things are true when they are not. He has led many to believe he is economy minded when the record shows he hasn't been."

Then Hayes, who told of his background of Republicanism, declared he believed he possessed in greater measure the things needed to defeat "the professor-socialist, the so-called Democrat, the pseudo-intellectual in the fall."

Hayes, who was national commander of the American Legion in the thirties, dwelt at length on his job as chief counsel for the Senate Judiciary subcommittee headed by Republican Senator Everett Dirksen, which has been investigating alien property.

He blasted Truman for "having the wool pulled over his eyes" to such a degree that he signed an executive order in 1945 which says there shall be no return of seized alien property. He charged that

Carrier Mills Students Win Ratings in Contest

Carrier Mills high school students made a good showing at the district instrumental and vocal district contests held Saturday at Carbondale University high school, with three soloists and two ensembles being recommended by the judges for the state contest. The state contest will be April 30-May 1 at Normal, Ill.

The Carrier Mills students were accompanied to the district meet by Mrs. Nancy Stealy, director of music at CMCHS.

Soloists recommended for first place ratings were Wanda Holloway, vocal; and Jo Ann Henson, vocal; Georgia McCutcheon, alto saxophone.

Ensembles recommended for the state contest were saxophone quartet, Carol Dunaway, Terry Gulledge, Wanda Holloway and Ron Culbreth; drum quartet, Janice Harrowood, Pat Milligan, Phyllis Bozarth and Sue Miller.

Other first place ratings, but not recommended for the state, were won by Larry Yates, vocal solo and Georgia McCutcheon, clarinet solo.

Winning second place ratings were Don Hanvey, vocal solo; David Overstreet, vocal solo; Carol Dunaway, alto saxophone solo; Wanda Holloway, tenor saxophone solo; Larry Yates, trombone solo; Marlene Backfisch, trumpet solo; Peggy Tolbert, trumpet solo.

Girls' vocal ensemble, Paula Russell, Beverly Parsons, Georgia Henson, Carolyn Absber, Donna Yates and Peggy Tolbert; twirling ensemble, Patsy Field, Gloria Williams and Opal Chrisman.

Third place ratings were won by Georgia Henson, vocal solo; Georgia Henson, trombone solo; girls' vocal ensemble, Lula Parks, Faye Hearne, Carol Felty, Carolyn Jenkins, Georgia McCutcheon, Phyllis Baker, Shirley Pyle and Janice Harrowood; boy's vocal ensemble, David Moake, Ed Lanton, Jack Morris, Lawrence Coffield, John Vocum, Dick Pyle, Bill Parks and Dick King.

Madrigal singers, Carolyn Jenkins, Jo Ann Henson, Janice Harrowood, Wanda Holloway, David Moake, David Overstreet, Don Hanvey and Larry Yates.

Harry Dexter White and others were responsible for it.

"After they got the policy changed they started seizing everything they could get their hands on," Hayes said. "If an alien died in this country and left his estate to a relative in Germany, they reached in and got it."

"In Brooklyn they reached into the estate of a naturalized German boy who served in the United States Army who was killed on a beachhead. He left $12,000 to an aged relative in Germany and the government took it. It's immoral and it's wrong."

He said that right now he was developing a theory on this injustice for presentation to Congress, at the urging of Senator Dirksen.

Robert G. Miley, Saline county chairman, presided at the meeting at which there was attendance from Hamilton, White, Gallatin, Johnson, Pope, Hardin, Massac, Franklin and Saline counties. The meeting was arranged by John Lockwood of Harrisburg.

District candidates present and introduced were A. D. Van Hoose of Cambria and Jack Quarant of Elizabethtown for congressman, W. Kenneth Downen of West Frankfort and Charles A. Jean of Anna for state central committeeman, Glen O. Jones of Raleigh for state senator, and Gordon E. Kerr of Brookport, W. O. Verhines of Vincennes, Dave E. Evans and Dale H. Sullivan of Harrisburg for state representative. County candidates also were introduced.

Meek Supports Farm Plan; Klein Predicts Victory

CHICAGO (U.P.)—Joseph T. Meek, campaigning for the Republican nomination for the U. S. Senate, expressed support for the Eisenhower farm program.

Julius Klein predicted that the field of nine candidates would narrow to two by the April 13 primary and that he would be one of them. Klein said he would win the primary.

Austin L. Wyman resumed his campaigning by helicopter, scheduling stops today at Kankakee, Paxton and Champaign. He said he would be at Paris, Robinson, Lawrenceville, Mt. Carmel, Carmi and Harrisburg Wednesday.

John B. Crane, former Northwestern University economics professor, scheduled television addresses today at Rockford and Rock Island.

Park Livingston has been endorsed by all the precinct leaders in Chicago's 33rd Ward, Frederick B. Resag, Livingston's Cook County manager, announced. The 33rd

Meek, head of the Illinois Federation of Retail Assns., said at Greenville Monday night that the administration farm program, in time, would benefit farm Bureau and the Illinois Farm Bureau offer sound guidance on farm policy.

Walter Rosenfield, ex-mayor of Rock Island and a former GOP state chairman, announced he is supporting Meek and would direct Meek's campaign in the Rock Island area.

Klein met Monday with five ward committeemen from Chicago's South Side and spoke at the 50th Ward headquarters of Edward F. Moore, chairman of the GOP Cook County Central Committee. At both meetings, Klein expressed appreciation for the "open primary" policy.

Klein said that not only would he win the primary but that he would beat Sen. Paul Douglas, the Democratic incumbent, in the fall.

Red Commandos Raid American- Manned Airfield

French Round Up
Persons Suspected
Of Aiding Raiders

HANOI, Indochina (U.P.)—Communist commandos trying to wreck American aid supplies attacked the vital port of Haiphong Monday night but were beaten off, the French High Command announced today.

Hastily-reinforced French Union forces put the Red raiders to flight as the outer defense line of the big China sea port whose docks and airfields channel American munitions to French fronts.

It was the second assault in the area in two days. The rebels carried out a daring raid on American-manned Catbi Airfield near Haiphong Sunday.

French military authorities rounded up 74 persons suspected of helping the Reds on that raid.

They also clamped rigid new security measures on other airfields and the port of Haiphong, through which flows much of the U. S. military supplies for French Union forces.

Tightened security measures were ordered amid reports the Reds, who have damaged 18 planes on two fields in sneak attacks, plan to make similar commando raids on all fields, where a total of 235 American Air Force technicians are based.

French authorities said the Communist aim had been to destroy a number of giant new C119 Flying Boxcars recently sent to Indochina by the United States.

Security forces, they said, barred the Reds from reaching the center of the Catbi field where the big planes were parked and they managed to damage only eight light planes at the outer edges of the field.

The Communist Viet Minh radio described the attack on the two French airfields, near Haiphong and Hanoi, as the greatest Red victory of the Indochinese war and claimed 79 planes and stocks of gasoline and bombs were destroyed.

Hershey to Give Final Ruling on Draft Objectors

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey disclosed today he is personally making the final decision in cases involving prosecution of ministers and conscientious objectors who illegally claim draft exemption.

Hershey has ordered local draft boards to send reports of all such cases to him because of conflicting court rulings in various federal districts and circuits. He is waiting for a Supreme Court ruling on the subject.

Hershey noted that the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals has held that a claim of conscientious objection cannot be denied where a person refuses to bear arms for his country but admits willingness to engage in a religious war or to use force to defend his life, home, or members of his sect.

Selective Service had previously contended draft exemption could be denied in such cases.

Previously local boards dealt directly with United States attorneys in handling draft evasion cases. Hershey changed this procedure in an order to local boards Jan. 26. He made it public today in the March issue of the bulletin "Selective Service."

House Votes to Boost Federal Aid for Roads

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The House voted Monday to boost federal aid to states for highway construction to 875 million dollars a year for the two years beginning July 1, 1955.

The measure, which now goes to the Senate, would hike federal highway grants by 225 million dollars a year. However, the expanded program is conditioned on Congress' extension of the present 2 cents a gallon federal gasoline tax scheduled to drop a half cent April 1.

President Eisenhower has called for extension of the 2-cent levy and this is a provision of the excise tax bill slated for House action Wednesday. If Congress fails to continue gasoline tax at the present rate, federal highway grants would be slashed 200 million dollars a year below the figure voted by the House.

No Entertainment at All if McCarthy Killed, Truman Says

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Former President Harry S. Truman was informed during his morning walk today that an anonymous telephone caller had made a threat against Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

Mr. Truman commented: "Oh, pshaw! I don't see why anyone would want to kill him. There would be no entertainment at all if they killed him."

McCarthy and Mr. Truman were "neighbors" during the night. The Wisconsin Republican, a bitter critic of the Truman administration was a guest at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel. Mr. Truman spent the night in the adjacent Waldorf Astoria Towers.

As he made a brisk 25-minute circuit of the Waldorf neighborhood before breakfast, he said he did not believe in "government by assassination."

"The best assassination for a politician is voter-assassination," he said.

Sen. McCarthy Receives Threat In Phone Call

NEW YORK (U.P.)—A man with a Spanish accent telephoned the Waldorf Astoria Hotel early today that "something terrible" would happen to Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy before daylight.

Police assigned a uniformed patrolman to guard the suite where McCarthy and his wife, Jean, were staying.

The senator and his wife checked in at the Waldorf Monday night after they arrived by plane from Miami, Fla. McCarthy is scheduled to speak today at a lunch meeting of New York's "Dutch Treat Club."

Waldorf security guards reported to police that a man "with a Spanish accent" telephoned with the brief message that "something terrible" would happen to McCarthy during the night. The man hung up before the call could be traced.

The hotel said it was assigning one of its security guards to patrol the floor of the McCarthy suite along with the city policeman. Other hotel employees were alerted to keep an eye out for suspicious-looking visitors.

Even before the anonymous threat was received, police had taken extra precautions for the safety of the controversial Republican. On his arrival at International Airport, 10 uniformed patrolmen waited to escort him into Manhattan.

McCarthy and his wife, who is on crutches with a broken ankle suffered in a taxi accident, appeared surprised when they stepped out of an airliner into the swarm of police. One patrolman told them:

"You got to have protection. Everybody in the crowd's got to be watched."

This was in keeping with a policy of giving special police protection to public figures in New York since the shooting in the House of Representatives March 1 by fanatic Puerto Rican Nationalists.

A police spokesman said early today the telephoned threat against McCarthy might well have been the whim of a crank, but special vigilance was being exercised for the safety of government officials during the crackdown on Puerto Rican Nationalists.

It was the second time within 15 days that McCarthy had been the object of a telephoned threat. Police in Philadelphia received an anonymous warning before the senator arrived there Feb. 22 to receive a good citizenship award from the Sons of the American Revolution.

Scout Executive Addresses Rotary

Don Tate, scout executive in this area, was guest speaker last night at the weekly dinner meeting of the Rotary club. Tate was introduced to club members by Wendell Bramlet.

Mr. Tate spoke about the development of the Boy Scout program in the immediate area and also throughout southern Illinois. He included in his fine talk mention of the Grassy Lake project which, when completed, will give this section of the State one of the best Scout camps in the entire country.

Election of officers will be conducted at next week's meeting. On March 22, the Rotarians will hold a ladies' night program with Dr. L. I. Webb as speaker.

Killed Near Bridgeport

BRIDGEPORT, Ill. (U.P.)—C. J. Welton, 74, Bridgeport, was injured fatally Monday in a collision between his car and an auto driven by Charles Cullison, Lawrenceville, on U. S. 50 near here. Cullison was hospitalized with injuries received in the accident.

Nixon Will Deliver Reply To Stevenson

Sen. McCarthy
Demands Free Time
For Own Answer

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Federal Communications Commissioner Robert E. Lee described as "very fair" today the provision of free network time to the Republican National Committee for answering a broadcast political speech by Democratic Leader Adlai E. Stevenson.

Lee, a "strictly personal" friend of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said he did not want to comment on McCarthy's demand that he be given free time, too, in which to answer the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate. But he did say:

"I see nothing wrong with the solution offered. The networks are giving the Republican Committee equal time. That's very fair."

The situation is that President Eisenhower asked Vice President Richard M. Nixon to reply to Stevenson next Saturday. Nixon agreed, and neither NBC radio nor CBS-TV provided time for the senator.

Threatens Law Action

Instead, they allotted 9:30 to 10 p. m. CST Saturday for Nixon's formal response to the March 6 speech in which Stevenson made a vigorous political attack on the President, the Republican Party, McCarthyism, and McCarthy.

McCarthy has declared he will have the law on the networks if they don't give him some free time, too.

The Federal Communications Act requires networks that give time to one candidate for an office to provide equal time for other candidates for the same office. In practice, Federal Communications Commission regulations have been interpreted by the networks as meaning they must provide equal time for presenting the views of opposing political groups.

Because the matter conceivably may come before the seven-member FCC, Lee did not want a comment on it in detail.

Nixon, Eisenhower to Confer

Lee said the FCC has not received any request for network time for McCarthy. The only legal requirement, he said, is for networks or broadcast stations to make equal time available for rival political candidates. But he added that stations and networks allow time for discussion of both sides of controversial issues "as a matter of policy."

He said the networks would not have violated any laws "if they had turned down" GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall's request for equal time. But he said "it might not be good policy."

Asked about McCarthy's declaration that the networks will grant the time he wants "or learn what the law is," Lee said, "maybe he knows something about the law that I don't."

Nixon disclosed meanwhile that he plans to confer with President Eisenhower about his official GOP reply to Stevenson.

"I plan to represent the viewpoint of the Republican Party and particularly that of the President," he said.

He said he has not heard from McCarthy.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

DREW PEARSON Says:
French Refuse American
Training For Indo-Chinese Troops; McCarthy Will Make His Counsel The Scapegoat;
The Veep Runs For The Senate
Again.

WASHINGTON — The headlines and hullabaloo over McCarthy vs. Eisenhower have obscured a lot of other things happening around the world, some just as as important to the free world as the battle over McCarthyism.

One is an indignant though unpublished veto by French Foreign Minister Bidault of the American suggestion that the United States train native Indo-Chinese troops.

When the proposal was put up to the French that U. S. military men use the same training tactics they so successfully used with the Greeks and South Koreans, Bidault told the American embassy:

As long as French troops and not Americans are fighting and dying
in Indo-China, there will be no American training program.

Bidault's answer startled the Pentagon which had been planning to send General "Iron Mike" O'Daniel to Indo-China. O'Daniel will still go, but with no authority to train troops.

Meanwhile, it's reported that at a secret meeting in Peiping, the Russians and Chinese promised heavy armament and troops to the Indo-Chinese Reds. All indications are that Indo-China will sooner or later go Communist.

McCarthy's Scapegoat Senator McCarthy is looking for a new chief counsel for his investigating committee. Roy Cohn, the brash, brilliant young prosecuting attorney now holding down that job, is slated for the axe.

Chief reason is that McCarthy needs a scapegoat. The heat from the White House has been too great; also from other members of the McCarthy subcommittee.

Another reason for axing Cohn is that the Army has kept a record of his telephone conversations on behalf of his friend Gerard David Schine in which he sought favors for the young ex-McCarthy investigator.

Significantly, McCarthy is trying to find a lawyer of the Jewish faith to replace Cohn. He considers this important in order to offset the charge that he is anti-Semitic.

Cohn, however, did not exactly help McCarthy to refute this charge. Meeting McCarthy and Cohn at the Carrol Arms hotel in Washington one day, Arnold Forster, secretary of the Anti-Defamation League, was greeted with this salutation from Cohn:

"How are all the — — Jews in New York?"

"Fine," replied Forster. "I had dinner with your father last night."

the pro-South midlands, and the state has been divided politically ever since.

So it's almost certain that the familiar face of the Veep will be seen once again around the Capitol.

JOHNSON CALLS CAUCUS
It has now been two months since Congress convened, and at long last Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the so-called Democratic leader, has called a Democratic caucus.

Ordinarily a party caucus is held at the very start of a congressional session, but Johnson carefully avoided calling one until this week.

Reason for ducking usual procedure was the fear that Democratic senators opposing him would stage a coup d'etat.

Meanwhile, Lyndon has been complaining privately to colleagues that his hands are tied by conservative forces back in Texas, such as oilman Hunt and the Shivercrats. If he antagonizes them he fears he'll arouse opposition for re-election.

This caused the Louisville Courier-Journal, one of the leading Democratic papers of the nation, to ask Johnson editorially and his assistant, Senator Clements of Kentucky, which was the most important — the Democratic party or Texas opposition to Johnson. The main object of the Democratic leadership in the Senate, the Courier-Journal chided, seemed to be to conduct the Democratic party for the benefit of Lyndon Johnson, not for the benefit of the nation.

RECESSION ADVICE
It may be denied, but the President's chief economic adviser, Dr.
Arthur Burns, complained privately to Ike that the Republicans — not the Democrats — are about to frighten the country into a recession.

Burns pointed out that the economic symptoms are plain to see across the country, and the average businessman recognizes that we are going through a slight recession. By denying any slump, Burns warned, GOP speakers give the country the impression that they are trying to cover up. This, he told his chief, is more apt to cause an economic panic than the Democratic gloom — and — doom speeches.

Burns argued that the country can get through the present business cycle without a serious recession — unless the country is stan-ped into a depression by what Burns calls a "fear psychosis."

Eisenhower agreed to reassure the public, and as a result of Burns' advice, the President has decided that if business and employment don't pick up in March, the government will act.

Tips on Getting Most from Car Fuel

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Automobile drivers who adjust their city driving to traffic flow and the timing of traffic signals can cut fuel consumption of their cars nearly in half, according to the Keystone Automobile club.

A fuel-saving of about 25 percent also can be achieved by lowering country speeds by 20 miles an hour, said Samuel T. Milliken, service manager of the club.

Pointing out that although the efficiency of engines and fuels has been increased greatly in the past 25 years, Milliken said the economical operation of a motor car still depends upon the driver.

He listed these tips on economical driving:

1. A light foot on the throttle can save up to half your gasoline when starting and shifting gears.
2. Go easy on the accelerator when the engine is cold.
3. Fill the gas tank often; air in the tank mixes with the fuel and leaves moisture which may cause corrosion inside the motor.
4. Never overload the engine.
Shift into lower gears as necessary, avoid surging the throttle, let the motor act as a brake in stops.
5. Criss-cross tires on wheels and spare rim every 5,000 miles. Keep tire pressure at the exact prescribed level.
6. Use the right weight of oil.
Incorrect weight can cost as much as 7.10th of a mile per gallon.
7. Keep the air filter clean, change exhaust lines and muffler
every 30,000 miles.
8. Make sure all battery connections are tight and corrosion free.
9. Have complete car check-up twice yearly.

ADEQUATE WIRING . . .

Whether you're planning to build that new dream home or just change the old one a bit this Spring, remember Adequate Wiring. Don't let a lack of outlets or overloaded circuits rob you of the comfort and convenience of modern electrical living. Consider carefully the number of outlets you need (one for every six feet of usable wall space is a good rule of thumb), the number of circuits and size of wire to carry the load safely. Take your wiring problems to your architect or electrical contractor. They can discuss your needs and provide good advice and experience. They know, too, that Adequate Wiring brings modern electrical convenience.

HELLO, SWEETHEART—Eric Trobehn greets Miss Charlotte Staudte, the girl he's been trying to marry for the past 40 years, as she arrives in Anchorage, Alaska. Two world wars, lost addresses and unemployment prevented the childhood sweethearts from climaxing their romance that started in Germany. Both of them are looking forward to an "early" marriage.

Missing Boy is Found Stuck in Fireplace Chimney

DEERFIELD, Ill. (UP) — More than 200 persons searched for 6-year-old Bobby Unger over a wide-spread area only to find him stuck in the chimney of an outdoor fireplace 30 feet from his home.

Sailors from nearby Great Lakes Naval Training Station, firemen, policemen and volunteers searched the countryside near here for about three hours Monday night before the child was found.

He was discovered when a searcher spotted his shoes near the barbecue fireplace.

Bobby suffered exposure, shock and arm injuries. He was trapped in the chimney for almost six hours. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Unger, found he was missing about 5 p. m. when his dog wandered home alone. They feared he was lost in nearby woodlands.

Women's Fellowship Meets With Mrs. Henry Lightfoot

The Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian church met at the home of Mrs. Henry Lightfoot, 115 East South street. The meeting was opened with everyone present quoting 1 Cor. 2:2 which is the theme scripture verse for the "Twelve Weeks With Christ" program now in progress for the entire church. They then prayed together the prayer which was especially written for the World Day of Prayer, led by Mrs. Frank Gray.

Mrs. Gray, president, presided over the business session. Twenty books were reported for the month. Those who took part in the World Call Quiz were Mrs. Carrie Young, Mrs. Henry Lightfoot, Mrs. Harold Boatright, Mrs. Frank Gray, Mrs. Myrtle Adams, Mrs. Wayne Brackney Sr., Mrs. James Ferrell, and Mrs. A. C. Parks. Mrs. Ruth Thompson led the devotional period using as her topic: "In the Lord your labor is not in vain," taken from the theme "He Gave to Every Man His Work."

Mrs. Carl Corrie presented the missionary lesson on "Even to the Present Hour," taken from the theme "O Living Church Thine Errand Speed." A poem pertaining to the lesson, "Heralds of Christ," was read by Mrs. Glen Daugherty. Those taking part in the lesson represented missionaries now abroad. Mrs. James Ferrell and Mrs. Frank Gray represented Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Bowers of Africa; Mrs. A. C. Parks and Mrs. Frelan Smith represented Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Adams of India; Mrs. Glen Daugherty and Mrs. Harold Boatright represented Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Redding of Jamaica; and Mrs. Leta Hamby represented Miss Eva Marie Johnson of Paraguay. The summary was given by Mrs. Carrie Young.

Mrs. Nellie Brackney read an article from World Call, "No Place Like Home," written by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Palmer, missionaries in Japan. This was excerpted taken from a letter written "back home" by Ralph and Maxine Palmer.

The meeting was closed with Missionary benediction. Those present other than mentioned above were Mrs. Bess Hagler and Mrs. Gladys Parker.

Surprise Birthday Dinner For Mrs. Blanche Adkisson

A surprise birthday dinner was given at the Good Shepherd nursing home at Galatia for Mrs. Blanche Adkisson, dietitian at the nursing home. Mrs. Adkisson had prepared a lovely meal for all who live at the home, without knowing it was her own surprise dinner. A chifon cake was also baked and enjoyed by all who live at the home, and Miss Geneva Morris, nurse in charge of the home, by whom the surprise was planned, and her assistants. Others present were Mrs. Clara Hale, Mrs. Pauline Gill, Mrs. Lucille Malone, Mrs. Joy Cook and Mrs. Stella Brock, who baked the cake, and Mrs. Adkisson.

Everyone present wished Mrs. Adkisson many more happy birthdays. Robert S. Keltner, local pharmacist who underwent major brain surgery last week, is reported to be making favorable improvement. He may be addressed in care of Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn.

World Day of Prayer Service Well Attended

The united meeting of the Protestant churches in Harrisburg at the First Methodist church Friday evening, March 5, the World Day of Prayer, was well attended.

The program, which had been written by Miss Chakko of Lucknow, India, was made even more interesting through carrying a feeling of sadness, by the brief comments of Mrs. Joseph M. Hart at the beginning, stating that Miss Chakko had died on Jan. 25 of this year, following a heart attack, at the age of 49. Mrs. Hart stated that it was most unfortunate that a person with such wonderful Christian powers and leadership should be taken from the ranks of Christian workers.

She added that she would like to thank all who helped in any way to make the meeting a success, the combined effort of the church leaders, WEBQ with its free announcements during the entire week preceding the meeting, the proclamation of the mayor, Ralph Horning Jr., and the free editorial by the managing editor of the Harrisburg Daily Register, Curtis G. Small, and the paper's most kind cooperation in publicizing the World Day of Prayer.

Mrs. Hart also wanted to thank persons who remembered to collect and bring old nylon hose to be sent to the Women's Welfare Service in Tokyo, Japan, where over 5,000 Japanese widows are being helped by the stocking project. There are about 1,800,000 war widows in Japan, and each has an average of four dependents. This nylon project provides a decent means for some of them to make a living. It takes 2 1/2 pounds of hose to provide a day's work for each woman. The hose are raveled and reweaved into socks, cloth and other goods.

It is an amazing fact that the average American woman has only a scant pound of stockings in a year, that is 22 to 24 pairs. It costs, even with the new postal rate, only one penny a pair to mail these hose to Japan. So far, the Harrisburg Council of Church Women has been paying the postage. "We want very much to keep up this good work, and if any organization or individual would like to make a small cash contribution for this transportation fund, it would be very much appreciated," Mrs. Hart stated.

The next meeting of the Harrisburg Council of Church Women will be the May fellowship meeting on meeting in the First Christian church.

Delta Alpha Chapter Members To Donate Blood

Delta Alpha chapter of Delta Theta Tau met last night at the library for the regular business meeting.

The chapter voted to again donate $18 to the Red Cross. This amount covers the complete expense of one girl to attend camp in the summer.

The chapter also voted to give $65 to the March of Dimes.

The announcement was made that the Bloodmobile will arrive in Harrisburg March 17, and the president asked for volunteers to donate one pint of blood in the name of Delta Alpha chapter. At least half of the chapter agreed to give one pint of blood to the Red Cross as a group in the name of Delta Theta Tau.

Members outside the active chapter as well as active members are reminded that their Delta home dues are due and payable as of March 1.

Buena Vista Home Bureau Meets With Mrs. Marvin Mullinix

The Buena Vista Home Bureau unit met Friday, March 5, at the home of Mrs. Marvin Mullinix.

The chairman, Mrs. Gail Denny, called the meeting to order, and roll call was "an improved home practice I've learned from Home Bureau." The minor topic, "Program Planning," was by Mrs. Emmett Buchanan, program chairman. The major topic, "Kitchen Storage," was given by Mrs. Mary Harper, home adviser.

The hostess and co-hostess, Mrs. Wayne Smith, served delicious refreshments to the following: Mesdames John Blue, Harold McConnell, Bradford Dunn, Loy Dodd, Emmett Buchanan, Raymond Pickford, Mary Hollorsen, Leroy Belt, Gail Denny, Hal Bond and Mary Harper.

Presbyterian Has First Service in New Church

The first of the family night dinners was held Wednesday evening in the lower rooms of the Presbyterian church. Everyone especially enjoyed the fellowship and worship service because it was also the first meeting of the congregation in the new building.

The potluck dinner was served by the Mary Seton circle and members of the Alpha circle, who assisted as hostesses. Each table was beautifully decorated in keeping with the St. Patrick motif. Center pieces, attractively arranged, were donated by Mrs. Dayton Ford.

The program consisted of a solo by Verner Joyner Jr., who was accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Hudson Mugge; a piano duet by Judy and Cheryl Wiley, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wiley; and three spirituals sung by Judith Howard, Reba Mayberry, Richard Scott, Linda Smith and Sharon Winston, and accompanied by Mrs. Alta Johnson.

Mrs. Clarence Bosket gave the devotion, and Russell Malan taught the adult class for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Byrd returned last night from Chicago where Mrs. Byrd attended the Illinois Hair Dresser association's 21st annual Midwest Beauty trade show Sunday and Monday at the Hotel Sherman.

Appreciative Audience Hears Symphony Concert Sponsored by Women's Club

Very appreciative was the audience which heard Maurits Keszner conduct the Southern Illinois university symphony orchestra in a concert Sunday afternoon at the Harrisburg Township high school. The concert was the annual music festival program presented by the Harrisburg Woman's club with Mrs. P. W. Sherman and Mrs. D. H. Hiller as co-chairmen.

Boys from musical groups at the Harrisburg Township high school served as ushers and after the program had been concluded the visiting symphony players were the guests of the Harrisburg Woman's club, in the high school cafeteria, where refreshments were served.

Potted plants, from the Ford Flower shop decorated the stage of the gymnasium in which the concert was held, and the refreshment table in the cafeteria was centered with a bowl of spring flowers. Daffodils and bud vases decorated the tables at which the guests sat to rest and enjoy coffee and small cakes after the program.

Music by the orchestra included numbers by Rossini, Tchaikovsky, Czardas, Faure, and Mendelssohn, concluding with two additional numbers as an encore to the applause accorded when the last of three pieces from "The Midsummer Night's Dream" by Mendelssohn was finished.

A good many of those present were from adjoining towns and counties. Through a mixup in the publicity given in Eldorado the people who came from there arrived at 7:30 p. m. and did not get to hear the program, which began at 3 p. m.

Pontiac, Michigan Club Holds Regular Meeting

The Pontiac, Mich., Sewing club held its regular meeting recently at the home of Mrs. Venita Lewis. Four members were absent because of the snow blizzard.

Delicious refreshments were served.

Mrs. Alpha Smith, 114 West Virginia street, has returned home from the Lightner hospital where she underwent surgery recently. She is doing fine and is able to receive callers.

Five Million Jobless in Definite Recession, Sen. Douglas Says

PHILADELPHIA — Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) said Monday night that more than 5,000,000 Americans are either "jobless, laid off or working part time" as a result of a "definite recession."

Speaking at the Irvin L. Stone Forum, the former University of Chicago economics teacher predicted, however, that there will be no depression because of "the safety nets we Democrats erected over the last 20 years."

Douglas criticized the Eisenhower administration for not moving boldly forward "to prevent a worsening of present conditions."

The Daily Register 25c a week by carrier boy.

WATERVILLE, Maine — A 24-year-old mother, accused of drowning her three children, said "God told me to do it."

The mother, Mrs. Constance Fisher, was booked on a murder charge.

Police said Mrs. Fisher, who had been under the care of a psychiatrist, tried to commit suicide by drinking hair shampoo after allegedly slaying her sons Richard, 6, and Daniel, 5, and her year-old daughter Deborah.

The tragedy was discovered by the children's father, Carl, when he returned from his job Monday night as a Maine Central Railroad employee.

Fisher said he found a suicide note on brown paper which read, in part:

"It was so hard. But God told me it was the only way I could save them. They are in heaven, safe forever from evil. I hope you will forgive me."

"Please forget all about us. May be you don't think I loved them. I did. My heart is breaking. I loved you and loved them."

Navy Secretary Anderson Expected To Succeed Kyes

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Navy Secretary Robert B. Anderson has apparently been tapped to succeed outgoing Deputy Defense Secretary Roger M. Kyes, authoritative sources said Monday night.

The White House announced Saturday that Kyes will quit his government post on May 1. Pentagon sources said Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson has decided whom he wants to succeed Kyes and has sent his recommendation to President Eisenhower. These sources believe Anderson is the choice, and that it will be announced soon.

Anderson, a "Democrat for Eisenhower" in the 1952 campaign, is a lawyer, educator, oil operator, rancher and prominent layman of the Methodist Church. He is the youngest member of Wilson's top defense team.

In the Pentagon organization, Anderson ranks behind Wilson, Kyes, and Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens, who heads the senior military service.

Benny's Daughter To Wed Tonight in $50,000 Affair

HOLLYWOOD — Joan Benny, 19-year-old daughter of miser-comedian Jack Benny, will marry Seth Baker, 26, a New York stock broker, tonight in a lavish ceremony and reception that her father said would cost him $50,000.

"I'll have to work two years to pay for it—and it's not deductible," Benny complained.

Some 300 guests have been invited to the wedding and champagne reception afterwards.

Gov. Stratton Opposes Plan to Boost Sales Tax

SPRINGFIELD — Gov. William G. Stratton said today he is "definitely" opposed to a proposal to hike the Illinois sales tax to finance state hospital construction.

Stratton said he believes the suggestion is not "very sound" and the "proper approach" is to "see if we can't get more efficient use of present funds."

"I think I have made it pretty clear this administration isn't getting to increase the sales tax," Stratton declared.

House Minority Leader Paul Powell (D-Vienna) made the proposal to boost the sales tax from 2 cents to 3 cents at a meeting of the Illinois Budgetary Commission in Chicago last Wednesday.

The increase would bring in an estimated one million dollars a year in added revenue, which Powell proposes to use for construction of hospitals to relieve present overcrowding.

Stratton also told his news conference:

1. U. S. Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) made an "irresponsible statement" and was "poorly informed" when he cited sales tax figures in an effort to show there were "startling indications" of a business slump in Illinois. Stratton said while Douglas claimed retail sales were down 33 1/2 per cent from January, 1953, to January, 1954, the drop was actually about 3 per cent.

XXXI
Luke spoke tersely, with his eye squinting out through the door crack. "Horse comin'!" Then he spoke with less tolerance. "Ryer-son's daughter." They heard the saddle creak as the girl swung down, and then heard her crossing the porch.
Naome was still in her squaw boots and buckskin and her dark eyes, wide and round, found Mar- rarrt's face and clung to it; and she put out her hands. "Is Dad all right?"
Marratt nodded. "I left him rid- ing with the crew."
Relief swept through her glance then it got dark again with worry and with something which caused Usher to go out, quietly pulling the door shut behind him.
She put a lifted hand against her left breast. "I had a terrible feeling—like a knife twisting in me; and then I realized what Craf- kin would do when he learned—"
"I'm man grown, Naome."
"But it won't be just him. He'll throw the whole weight of Wine- glass against you!"
"Naome, I must tell you I am not Luke Usher."
She put a hand across his mouth. "As if that could matter so long as—"
"But it does... it matters ter- ribly. I—" He squared his should- ers. "I'm Grete Marratt."
The name meant nothing at all to her.
"I'm a convict." He swallowed hard. "A killer escaped from Yuma!"
"What does that change?"
Marratt broke. He pulled her to him with a kind of sob; and as they clung together, the porch door was shoved open and Luke's twisted face said: "They comin'! Get her out of there!"

Marratt, stumbling off the porch, caught the reins of her horse from Luke's clenched hand. He saw the dust, like smoke, boiling over the trees that obscured the road.
Luke's hand grabbed his shoulder. "What's she waitin' for?"
"She's staying."
"Stayin'?" Luke's eyes blazed.
"I'm seeing this through." He drew Naome's rifle from beneath the stirrup fender and his jaw was like granite. He thrust the black's reins at Usher. "Take the horse in the house and keep out of sight." He shoved him roughly. "Get in there and keep me covered!"
Wheeling then, with the rifle loose-slanting from the crook of an elbow, he took a few careless strides in the direction of the men riding into the yard and stopped, implacably waiting for Gainer's bunch to come up.
They were five, varying in the details of their physical appear- ance but cut to a pattern; bleak hard-eyed men with the gun-smoke smell saturating their clothing along with the sweat and steamy pungence of horseflesh.
They hauled their mounts up before him in a loose half-circle, the small and dark man who had accosted him in town allowing lean shaved lips to curl with an obvious amusement.
"Mornin'... boss. My name is Green and this is your crew, del- ivered as advertised. You want to say a few words before the boys go to work?"
"Might save them a little grief," Marratt nodded. "You fellows were hired by Clint Gainer to come over here this mornin', and in the guise of being this spread's paid em- ployees, to blast Wineglass. I think you ought to know before you start burning powder Gainer slipped a couple of cogs in sizing up this situation."
Green's eyes were still amused. "I guess the size of this crew will take up any slack."
"The mistakes Gainer made could get you boys in a lot of trou- ble. In the first place Gainer's orders were given on the erroneous assumption he had acquired a half interest in this ranch. At the point of a gun he got me to give him a paper which doesn't happen to be worth the time it took to write it."
"You made it."
"But it happens I'm not Luke Usher." Marratt's smile loosed the gleam of hard white teeth.
There was no amusement in Green's stare now. He said, softly wicked, "Who the blue blazes are you?"
"The name is Grete Marratt and for this day I'm packin' just about all the law there is in these parts," he drawled, tapping Hanna's badge with the back of a thumbnail.

"What about Ives Hanna?"
"My warrant exceeds Mr. Han- na's authority."
"We're stickin'!" Green said.
"Then you're taking my orders!"
"Let's hear 'em."
Marratt, hiding his frustration behind inscrutable cheeks, said, "Take your horses over back of those trees to the left and tie them there somewhere where they'll not be seen."
Green hoisted a leg across the horn and swung down. The rest followed suit. Flicking a nod at one of the others the dark man grunted, "That's a job for you, Curly," and the man selected start- ed the mounts toward the trees.
Too late Marratt discovered that, in sliding from their saddles, Gain- or's crew had so maneuvered things he was now caught fast be- tween them.
"I guess you're through with giv- ing orders for awhile," Green jeer- ed; and something hard crashed down across the top of Marratt's head.

Bishop Oxnam 'Sure' Rep. Velde Will Be Defeated

CHICAGO — Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam again squared off against his old antagonist, Rep. Harold Velde (R-Ill.), and said he was sure the congressman would be beaten at the polls this fall.

In a speech Monday before a Methodist ministers' meeting, he also hailed Adlai E. Stevenson for his "statesmanship and courage," and warned that the GOP will commit "political suicide" if it lines up with Sen. Joseph B. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Oxnam, head of the Methodist Church in the Washington, D. C. area, was once ordered to testify before Velde's Un-American Activities Committee.

He called Velde a "sorry figure," and one "out from the same cloth as McCarthy."

"I have no doubt that the people in this district will find a better representative," Oxnam said.

Germany and France Seek to End Saar Dispute

PARIS — France and Germany agreed today to attempt to settle their long dispute over the future of the Saar by negotiating a "European status" for the rich industrial basin.

The agreement to push forward with negotiations resulted from two morning conferences here between West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault.

Premier Joseph Laniel was consulted in the closing stages of the Adenauer-Bidault talks.

There was no formal declaration of principle, which had been expected, but both sides agreed to further talks "drawing inspiration from the general lines of the proposition defining the European status of the Saar" drafted for the Council of Europe by Dutch Deputy M. Van Der Goes Van Naters. Guaranteed By NATO

Bidault delivered to Adenauer today a French plan which a Foreign Ministry official said roughly paralleled the Van Naters plan, but with several modifications. Under the Van Naters plan, the Saar would be made an international territory, with internal affairs handled by the local parliament and external matters directed by a neutral commissioner under the supervision of the coal-steel pool plan. He would be assisted by both French and Germans.

Defense of the Saar would be the responsibility of the supreme Allied commander in Europe and the whole arrangement would be guaranteed by the U. S., France and Germany and perhaps by other Council of Europe members.

The meeting was opened with prayer by the president, Mae Hitchcock, after which the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Roll call was answered by quoting a Bible verse beginning with the letter M.

During the business session Dottie Tanner was in charge of the devotion using as her theme "Sowing Seeds of Love." Mrs. Essie Mot-singer gave the lesson entitled "Latin Americans Along the Mexican Border." The scripture was taken from the 12th chapter of Romans.

GOP Senator Flanders Accuses McCarthy Of Doing His Best to Shatter Party

WASHINGTON — A Republican senator today accused Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of "doing his best to shatter" the Republican Party.

Sen. Ralph E. Flanders of Vermont also said in a Senate speech that McCarthy's Red-hunting campaign is diverting the nation's attention from the "dangerous problems" faced abroad.

In a brief, sometimes humorously worded speech, Flanders expressed puzzlement about McCarthy's political affiliation.

"Is he a hidden satellite of the Democratic Party, to which he is furnishing so much material for quiet mirth?" Flanders asked.

"It does not seem that his Republican label can be stuck on very tightly, when by intention or through ignorance he is doing his best to shatter that party whose label he wears."

One-Man Party

Flanders said "one must conclude that this is a one-man party, and that its name is McCarthyism, a title which he has proudly accepted."

McCarthy was not present to hear the Flanders speech, the first open attack on McCarthy by a GOP senator at this session of Congress.

Pointing to the Communist danger in Asia, Europe, and South America, Flanders asked what is the part played by McCarthy in "this battle of the age-long war?"

Ted Weems to Play At Dance to Aid Walking Dog Foundation

Ted Weems will play a concert and dance at the Carbondale armory Friday, March 12.

Weems is being brought to Carbondale by the SIU Independent Party, who will donate the proceeds to The Walking Dog Foundation, according to the announcement.

The Walking Dog Foundation is a state work project of the Illinois Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Harrisburg and Eldorado Jaycees are cooperating in the Weems' appearance by helping with ticket sales. In Harrisburg the Lions club is also handling tickets.

The concert will start at 7:30 p. m. Admission will be $1.00 per person. The dance starts at 9 o'clock and admission will be $3.00 per couple.

"He dons his war paint," Flanders said. "He goes into his war dance. He emits his war whoops. He goes forth to battle and proudly returns with the scalp of a pink Army dentist."

"We may assume that this represents the depth and seriousness of Communist penetration in this country at this time."

Necessary to Keep in Limelight

Flanders said the Wisconsin Republican had charged into the "dirty premises" left by the Democrats with "all the energy and enthusiasm of a natural-born housekeeper."

Flanders said he realizes there is "much clutter and hullabaloo" to housecleaning, but he said that in his long life he has "never seen or heard anything to match the dust and racket of this particular job of housecleaning."

"Perhaps these extremes are necessary if a one-man party is to be kept in the headlines and in the limelight," he said.

Capture Du Quoin Man Escaped While Wearing Handcuffs

HERRIN, Ill. — Police captured Roscoe Scott, 23, Du Quoin, today as he walked along railroad tracks north of here wearing handcuffs put on by Du Quoin police who stopped him for reckless driving Sunday night.

Police Chief Lynn Franklin and officer Ira Davis captured Scott after a trainman spotted him along the tracks wearing the handcuffs. Williamson County Sheriff Ora Kirby took him into custody for return to Du Quoin authorities.

Scott walked from Du Quoin to Herrin after escaping Sunday night from a police car. Patrolman Robert Murray put him in the car while he freed a boy who was riding with Scott when he fled police in a wild chase which ended with him overturning his father's car.

Du Quoin police sought to arrest Scott for reckless driving after he forced other cars off the road.

Scott was released from Menard Penitentiary Sunday after serving 2½ years of a three-year term for auto theft.

Leahy Strikes Back at Critics, Attacks NCAA

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Notre Dame football coach Frank Leahy today defended "feigned injuries" and touts for prospective athletic scholarship students while directing separate broadsides at the NCAA and certain representatives of the Big Ten Conference.

In an article in this week's Look Magazine, the retired coach of the Fighting Irish uses fighting words in striking back at those critics "who have long resented Notre Dame's dominant position in football."

Leahy is especially vehement in his defense of feigned injuries, which Notre Dame employed to stop the clock and strike for two touchdowns in last season's 14-14 tie with Iowa.

"Feigned injuries have been part of football since Walter Camp invented the first down rule more than 70 years ago," he writes. "Yet, you probably never heard about a feigned injury until our Iowa game, and I'll tell you why. Usually, the extra seconds gained avail a team little or nothing."

Against Iowa, we used the extra seconds to score two touchdowns, a tribute to Notre Dame's typical determination and poise. It seems to me that the controversy was caused not by what was done, but by who did it."

In attacking the NCAA, Leahy charges this group "wastes its time outlasting or frowning upon things that are not essentially evil at all: Two-platoon football, spring practice, the athletic scholarship. And, ah, yes, the infamous tryout."

Notre Dame received a public slap from the NCAA last summer for trying out prospective recruits of athletic scholarships.

"What's wrong with giving an athletic scholarship candidate a simple tryout for speed and reactions?" Leahy asks. "An academic scholarship prospect must prove his standards in some form of examination."

Rice and Southern California Win NCAA Berths; LaSalle, Navy Win Tournament Tilts

NEW YORK (AP) — Rice and Southern California entered the field for the NCAA basketball tournament today as newly-crowned league champions, while actual play in that court carnival and the National Invitation Tournament began to pick up steam.

Rice won the special playoff for the Southwest Conference championship, two games to none, Monday night by defeating Texas, 72-71, at Austin, Tex., on a last-second tap-in goal by Jim Beavers.

And Southern California won the playoff for the Pacific Coast Conference championship, two games to one, by defeating Oregon State, 48-45, on four last-minute points at Long Beach, Calif.

Three more league champions will be crowned tonight, two of them in special playoff games. Kentucky, the nation's No. 1 team, and Louisiana State, the defending league champion, clash at Nashville, Tenn., for the Southeastern Conference championship in a playoff forced because both teams went unbeaten through the regular league season. Princeton and Cornell meet at Philadelphia in a playoff for the Ivy League championship, a special game forced by Princeton's 48-44 victory over Cornell Monday night that deadlocked the two teams at the end of the regular season.

La Salle, Navy Win NCAA Tilts

At Columbia, Mo., Kansas can clinch the Big Seven championship by beating Missouri in its final game of the season, but a Missouri win would result in a Kansas-Colo-rado deadlock for the title.

The NCAA tournament got underway Monday night with a doubleheader at Buffalo, N. Y., in which La Salle scored a 76-74 overtime victory over Fordham and Navy downed Connecticut, 85-80, and a single game at Durham, N. C., in which North Carolina State nipped George Washington, 75-73.

The NCAA continues tonight with games at three sites: Fort Wayne, Ind., where Toledo and Penn State meet for the right

Indiana Placed First in Final College Ratings

NEW YORK (AP) — Indiana, which parlayed speed, stamina and sharp-shooting to the Big Ten title and thus qualified to defend its NCAA championship, today was chosen college basketball's top team for the second straight year by the United Press Board of Coaches.

Coach Branch McCracken's Hoosiers, who raced through one of the nation's toughest schedules with a 19-3 record, edged undefeated Kentucky for the honor by a margin of 310 points to 293 in the final 1953-54 rankings of the 35 leading coaches who make up the United Press Board.

Actually, 20 of the coaches voted Kentucky tops, compared to only 12 for the Hoosiers, but Indiana received much stronger support from all the coaches to wind up on top. Three of the coaches did not vote for Kentucky, which has three stars ineligible for the NCAA tournament because they have received their degrees.

Duquesne, top-seeded team in the National Invitation Tournament now underway in New York, finished third. The remaining spots among the 10 top teams were filled by the following: Oklahoma A&M (4); Notre Dame (5); Western Kentucky (6); Kansas (7); Louisiana State (8); Holy Cross (9), and Iowa (10).

La Salle, in and out of the top 10 all season, finished in 11th place, trailed by Illinois and Colorado A&M. North Carolina State and Southern California were tied for 14th; Oregon State was 16th; Seattle and Dayton tied for 17th; followed by Rice and Duke.

Ted Williams Undergoes Surgery On Broken Collarbone

BOSTON (AP) — Alternately jovial and gloomy, Ted Williams underwent surgery on his broken collarbone today in an effort to get the husky slugger back into a Red Sox uniform by May 1st.

Williams' sunken brow was wrinkled Monday night as he unsmilingly studied an X-ray of his ailing joint and heard his left collarbone was not healing properly.

When his friend and personal physician, Dr. Russell F. Sullivan, informed him of the decision to wire the broken pieces of bone, Williams' mood improved.

Dr. Sullivan, who was to perform the one-hour "medullary nailing," said the $80,000-a-year Boston leftfielder would have to remain at the hospital for a week "and I'd like him to stay in Boston for two or three weeks until I can see some definite signs the bones are uniting."

Rams, Metropolis Game to Open Sectional Here

Mt. Carmel Will Meet Mounds Douglass On Thursday Night

The Harrisburg sectional basketball tournament will start at eight o'clock tomorrow night with the favored Mt. Vernon Rams tackling a young Metropolis quintet.

Thursday night the Mt. Carmel Aces will meet Mounds Douglass and the winners of the two contests will face each other at 8 p. m. Friday for the sectional championship. The winner will go to the state meet at Champaign.

The Harrisburg meet is one of 15 sectionals to be played throughout the state during the three nights. The 15 winners and the Chicago champ will meet in the state finals.

According to the dope by the experts, Mt. Vernon and Mt. Carmel will meet in the finals here and the game should be one of the most outstanding in the state that evening. The Rams won their conference championship, the South Seven, and Mt. Carmel won the Northern Egyptian loop title.

Panthers Favored at W. Frankfort

However, Mt. Vernon has been made the favorite to win the title by Associated Press sports writers polled. Sixteen of 18 polled picked the Rams to win here with two holding out for Mt. Carmel. None picked Metropolis or Mounds Douglass to win the meet.

In this poll Pinckneyville was picked to win at West Frankfort, where Centralia, Marion and Benton also play. Coach Duster Thomas' Panthers were favored by 17, with one lone writer picking Centralia. They may have overlooked a bet in Marion, however, as both Don Groves and Larry Odum are hitting now. During the season, it seemed, when one was hot, the other was off.

Teams throughout the state getting the most support from the writers were Pinckneyville, Quincy and Morton of Cicero, with the Pincks getting the top nod.

Only two district winners in the state have advanced to the sectionals and Harrisburg has one of them. It is Mounds Douglass, which won the Anna district by beating Cobden, 70 to 39, in the finals, then went on to cop the Wolf Lake regional by beating Vienna 80 to 74. The other district winner still in contention is Bowen, an upstate school.

The Metropolis team that Mt. Vernon, fourth ranked team in the state, will play here, has only one senior on the squad. Coach Dan Faherty calls one junior, Dwight Barfield, 6-2 forward, "one of the finest players in southern Illinois this season."

He added: "I believe our team can give Mt. Vernon an interesting game at Harrisburg."

Tomorrow night will tell.

Riegel Given Special Mention On South 7 Squad

No South Seven conference school got more than one player on the first all-star team picked by league coaches who met last night at West Frankfort. One Harrisburg player, Ronnie Riegel, got special mention, and two others, Dave Anglin and Richard Gideumb, got honorable mention.

There were three unanimous choices for the first team. They were Albert Avant of Mt. Vernon, six foot, 150 pound, 18-year-old senior of Mt. Vernon; Bill Lawrence, 6-1 junior, 18 years old and 170 pounds of Herrin, and Bobby Mason, 6-1½ junior, 17 years old and 155 pounds of Centralia.

Others selected were Larry Odum, 5-11 senior, 18 years old and 185 pounds of Marion, and Dick Harben, Benton, 6-foot senior, 18 years old and 185 pounds.

The second team: Larry Whitlock of Mt. Vernon, senior, 18, 6-4, 185; George Marcum of Centralia, senior, 18, 6-1, 176; Kenny Walker of West Frankfort, senior, 18, 6, 155; Don Groves of Marion, senior, 18, 6-1, 170;

Richard Jones of Herrin, sophomore, 15, 5-7, 135.

Special mention went to Ronnie Riegel of Harrisburg, Carl Smith of Herrin and Don Richards of Mt. Vernon because they all narrowly missed making the second team.

Receiving honorable mention were Dave Anglin and Richard Gideumb of Harrisburg, Bob Johnson and Maurice Phillips of Benton, Dick Jones of Centralia, Dale Harris of Marion and Gail Dawson and Paul Peeler of West Frankfort.

Indians Scalp Pitchers With 17-Hit Average

By United Press

The Cleveland Indians, causing the greatest terror in the state of Arizona since the days of the Apaches, are scalping all pitchers alive, with an average of 17 hits and 15 runs per ball game.

In three exhibition games so far, two against the Giants and one against the Cubs, Cleveland has scored a total of 47 runs and 51 hits.

"The boys are sure wearing those pitchers out," said Manager Al Lopez, smilingly, today, "and I hope they can keep it up."

Rookie Rudy Regalado played the key role in the Indians' 15-9 triumph over the Cubs at Tucson, Ariz., Monday. Subbing for regular second baseman Bobby Avila, Regalado blasted a pair of home runs and two singles to help Cleveland to its first exhibition victory over the Cubs since 1950.

Ralph Kiner and Hal Jeffcoat each homered for the Cubs.

Orlones Rap Out 18 Hits

The Baltimore Orioles also went on a hitting spree as they rapped four Giant pitchers for 18 safeties in gaining a 13-8 decision. Don Larsen started for the Orioles and aided his own cause by driving in four runs with a homer and a single. Teammate Don Lehndt also homered for the Orioles while Willie Mays, Foster Castleman and Harvey Gentry hit home runs for the Giants.

George Kell's two-run triple in the third inning produced the runs that gave the Red Sox a 2-1 triumph over the Yankees at St. Petersburg, Fla. The Boston victory was marred somewhat, however when outfielder Jim Piersall suffered a pulled back muscle while sliding back to second base in the third inning. Piersall is expected to be sidelined for several days.

Phillies Beat Cardinals

The White Sox registered their second straight exhibition victory at Orlando, Fla., when rookie Bill Wilson's ninth inning single drove in the winning run in a 4-3 decision over Washington. There were 18 walks in the ball game with the White Sox collecting 10.

Rookie third baseman George Freese, aiming to win a regular berth with the Pirates, drove in four runs with a homer and a double to help defeat Detroit, 7-3. It was the second day that Freese was instrumental in Pittsburgh's victory. He smashed out three hits to help beat the Tigers Sunday.

The Phillies' "A" squad beat the Cardinals, 3-2, at Clearwater, Fla., while Steven O'Neill's "B" squad defeated Cincinnati's "B" squad, 2-1, at Tampa, Fla.

A three-run double by rookie Jim Robertson with two out in the eighth inning gave the Philadelphia Athletics a 6-4 victory over the Milwaukee Braves. The blow brought Philadelphia from behind and made rookie Ed Bertschy the winning pitcher.

Explains Ticket Allotments for Sectional Games

Principal Raymond L. Foster today explained the ticket setup for the Harrisburg sectional basketball tournament to be held here Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings at eight o'clock, stating he believed there would be general admission tickets for everybody who wanted them, at least on the first two nights.

He explained that for the first two nights reserved and general admission tickets had been distributed to the competing schools with the two schools getting 35 per cent of the tickets and Harrisburg getting 30 per cent for each evening.

That means, he said, that the reserved seat tickets for Harrisburg have been used up but there is some possibility that there could be some returned reserved seats from the towns where they have been allotted.

In such a case, he continued, these reserved seats will be put on sale along with general admission ducats when the ticket windows open to the general public at 6:30 p. m., an hour and a half before game time.

Seats will not be allotted for Friday night, he said, until it is determined which teams will compete for the championship. When it is known, he stated, the reserved and general admission tickets

Cardinals' Jablonski and Bilko Don't Help Vic Raschi's Shaky Knee

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

VERO BEACH, Fla. —(NEA)—Members of the Brooklyn high command were asking Ted Lyons about Vic Raschi, so unexpectedly sold by the Yankees to the Cardinals. The Springfield Rifle, with the highest winning percentage among active major league pitchers, now poses an additional problem to the Dodgers, you see.

"Raschi is a year older and that doesn't exactly help a pitcher or a ballplayer when he's 35," replied the long-time White Sox luminary who came from the Tigers to coach the Brooks' bowlers. "But he was still a great pitcher last season. A pitcher can pitch with a bad knee, you know."

"But," butted in Fresco Thompson, the erstwhile infielder directing the Flatbush farms, "Raschi now has Jablonski and Bilko to worry about."

The thumping of Ray Jablonski and Steve Bilko must cover a multitude of transgressions at third and first base, respectively, especially when it comes to fielding bunts, the one department in which Raschi, because of his reported bum knee, is vulnerable.

That's why the Red Birds paid $100,000 each for Shortstop Alex Grammas, who came from the Reds via Kansas City, and Tom Alston, a towering young Negro purchased from the San Diego Coasters.

Speaking of Raschi's sale to the St. Louis Nationals on the eve of the start of spring training, the World Champions have a way of not leaving their stars smiling when they say goodbye.

Billy Johnson worked out with the Bombers at Yankee Stadium one evening before being advised to catch the next train for St. Louis and the Cardinals. Only roommate Tommy Henrich took time out to say so long.

The brilliant Joe DiMaggio's contract for the Yankees' post-season television show was not renewed for a second year. General Manager George Weiss interviewed Henrich as a prospective replacement and tipped Old Reliable that he would let him know by telephone. Henrich, an established sportscaster, is still waiting for the call.

When George Selkirk, who replaced the immortal Babe Ruth, was summarily dismissed as the New York Americans' Kansas City manager, the one-time outfielder explained that there just wasn't room in the organization for him, self and Casey Stengel. Last season Twinkletones Selkirk's Toledo club beat Kansas City for the American Association flag.

At the victory dinner last fall, Dan Topping told Jimmy Mize that he wanted to talk with him after the 1953 business had been closed. Thumper Mize has yet to hear from the co-owner.

He will coach the new Richmond Virginians of the International League in spring training at Sanford, Fla., and broadcast before the Giants' games throughout the season. An agent signed him, not a ball club.

You never see an old Yankee not presently attached to the club visiting the champs at their camp. Alumni of most other outfits put in an appearance.

With the Yankees, baseball is a cut and dried business. When it is time for a Bomber to move along, the front office treats him like a landlord dispossessing a tenant. It seems to be the final touch of ice cold efficiency that has produced so many pennants and world championships.

Speaking of near-old-timers, Bill Terry, the big automobile man of Jacksonville, is at the Dodgers' camp aboard his yacht. The last National Leagueer to bat .400 and a new member of the Hall-of-Fame, he recommended a young Negro to the Superbas, completely passing up the Giants' recruit base at not-too-distant Melbourne on the way down to Vero Beach.

A veteran writer who covered Terry and the Giants suggested that maybe the athlete he has in tow dragged Memphis Bill's barge down the intercoastal canal.

Royal Cinderella--For Princess Alexandra Kent, 17, This is Her Year of Liberation

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent
LONDON — (NEA) — England's "Royal Cinderella" has reached her "year of liberation."
The time has come for Princess Alexandra of Kent—who was reared in modest surroundings and wears her mother's hand-me-downs—to leave the shadows of the schoolroom and take her place in the glittering royal galaxy.
Christmas was her 17th birthday. And it is during their 17th years that British princesses begin to assume their duties.
A pretty, vivacious girl with dreamy eyes, nut-brown curls and camellia-like complexion, Alexandra is a cousin to the Queen. Her father was the dashing Duke of Kent, the youngest son of King George V. Her mother is Princess Marina of Greece.

The only thing regal about the "Christmas Princess" is her name—Alexandra Helen Elizabeth—Olga Christabel of Kent. If a princess should seem haughty or self-conscious, as the public often thinks, she does not look the part.
A schoolmate once said to her, "It is hard for me to remember that you are a princess."
"To tell you the truth," she replied, "I have the very same trouble."
Nevertheless, she is well equipped for her role. The people who have watched her grow up wax enthusiastic about her charm, poise and graciousness—and especially her bright conversation.

As one has noted, "Unlike most English girls, she is never tongue-tied when the three essential topics of British conversation—dancing, the weather and horses—have been exhausted."
Her first official public appearance was at last year's Coronation. She was the youngest princess in Westminster Abbey—and many thought her the prettiest. The royal-loving British quickly rediscovered her.
They are destined to see more of her soon. Often in the past, "Princess Alex," as she's known in family circles, would laughingly refer to "my year of liberation." Now that year has arrived—and so has the work that goes with it.

While Queen Elizabeth is on her extensive foreign tour, Alexandra will get her first taste of public duties, such as opening bazaars, visiting hospitals, unveiling memorials and patronizing charity balls.

If Princess Margaret's engagement should also be announced this spring, by any chance, then Alex would be even busier.

The difference between them is one of upbringing. Margaret was carefully groomed to be a princess. Alexandra, who is several inches taller, was reared like any other girl of good English family.
When her father was killed in a 1942 airplane accident, he left no money. The family moved to the cheaper climate of the country, 30 miles from London, with a modest yearly sum from George V's private income set aside to educate the children.

Alex learned to live without frills. First at the village school, and then at boarding school, she was granted no exceptions, in line with her mother's democratic ideas on education.

Along with her two brothers, Alexandra roamed the village at will. There were never any detectives to shield her from public view. When she visited London or the beach, she traveled third class on the train and stayed at modest hotels. Her weekly allowance did not permit best seats at the movies.

Right up until her last birthday, Alex had to be content with her mother's made-over clothes. The only time she wore a special design was at Elizabeth's Coronation, and she described this to her schoolmates as "absolute bliss."
As a birthday and Christmas gift combined, she was allowed to choose a dress of her own.

She has definitely inherited her mother's fine clothes sense. Despite her lack of great wealth, Marina is often called her nation's best-dressed woman. And like her, Alex has the knack of seeming chic in whatever she dons.

Financially, the Kents are now better off. The late Queen Mary was especially fond of Alex and is said to have left her a sizeable sum of money and some handsome jewels. Besides, it is traditional for the royal family to set up apartments for high-ranking members who can't afford to keep a house in London.

People who know her democratic background are wondering if Alex won't chafe at the strict court protocol and etiquette which gradually will hem her in.

The Cinderella of the royal family soon will realize that she no longer can comment out loud on the way Cousin Philip (Duke of Edinburgh) sails his boat, nor say how fond she is of Uncle David (Duke of Windsor).

She will have to get used to being always in the limelight—to watch every expression, every gesture. And that will be a definite change.

Annual Reports By Self-Employed Due By March 15

Since most people who work for themselves are now covered by social security and must file a special report of self-employment income once every year, E. Bishop Hill, manager of the Harrisburg office, has some advice to offer on how to make these reports out properly.

It should be understood, Mr. Hill said, that certain types of income are not to be reported. For example, income from the practice of medicine, dentistry, law and other professions does not count. Income from operating a farm is excluded. Also rents from real estate or income from stocks and bonds is not unless the taxpayer operates a real estate business or is a dealer in securities, and this income is received in the course of his business.

Mr. Hill also said the correct amount of self-employment income must take into account business expenses. Deductions for depreciation, repairs, taxes, wages of employees, licenses, and other operating costs must come out of gross income before net earnings from self-employment can be shown. Some taxpayers are failing to show proper income and proper deductions, and as a result their returns are coming back for correction and adjustment.

The self-employed taxpayer should also make sure he has shown his personal social security account number on his report. Some self-employed people, said Mr. Hill, are omitting account numbers or are showing incorrect account numbers.

It is also important for each self-employed person to go into a little more detail when filling out the space that calls for "nature of business activity." In other words a self-employed person should not show "sales," but he should indicate what it is he is selling, whether he is selling at retail or wholesale, etc.

Another point, Mr. Hill stressed: A self-employed person should see it that he shows his own name as well as any trade or business name he operates under when he prepares this special self-employment report.

According to Mr. Hill, a set of instructions for the self-employed taxpayer is included with each copy of the special self-employment report. Supplementary instructions are available upon request at Internal Revenue Service and social security offices. If each taxpayer would read these instructions carefully, he, or she, would have very little trouble in making out a report properly. There are a few situations such as family partnerships, persons engaged in more than one business activity, and changes in ownership within a taxable year where a special

Longshoremen Picket Court

NEW YORK — Some 500 rebel longshoremen set up a picket line before the Federal Courthouse today as their wildcat strike against the government went into its fifth day.

A spokesman for the independent International Longshoremen's Assn. said the members refused to go back to work in "bitter resentment" at three separate federal actions, all scheduled for the Foley Square courthouse today.

Federal Judge David N. Edelstein signed a show cause order this morning calling on the ILA to appear on March 16 for hearing on a National Labor Relations Board petition for a $100,000 contempt action. The NLRB charged the union was in contempt of court for its defiance, beginning last Friday, of a temporary restraining order against a cargo boycott which began last week.

In another courtroom, the union was ordered to show cause why that temporary restraining order should not be made an injunction.

In a courthouse hearing room, an NLRB trial examiner continued hearing witnesses on a recommendation to throw out the pre-Christmas representative election between the ILA and the rival AFL-ILA on the grounds of ILA interference with voting longshoremen.

Sangamo Discusses Expansion of Plant Near Marion

MARION, Ill. — Officials of the Sangamo Electric Co., Springfield, discussed expansion of the company's plant near here Monday with a group of Southern Illinois businessmen.

The proposed plant would employ about 200 persons at the start to manufacture a "power factor correction instrument," a new product of Sangamo used on large electrical installations.

The plant would be built along Ill. 13 on the Ordill ordinance plant grounds where Sangamo now rents building space from the federal government for an electrical capacitor plant.

Monday's discussion centered on financing the new building.
